

PRODUCTION PLANNING SPECIALIST

Recent university graduate (1-2 years of experience) who will specialize in the field of planning and allocation processes using statistical and heuristic models. Successful candidate will be working closely with logistics and production team to improve operational efficiency and customer satisfaction.

Job Description:

- To give due dates for the sales orders.
- To provide production orders for each machine in optimal sequence.
- To prepare product code, Bill of Material (BOM), Bill of Operations (BOO) and the versions for new product requests.
- To provide relevant data for planning, optimization and cost calculations.
- To follow up (open/ redirect / close) production orders and to report non-conformances to related personnel.
- To determine the final product's properties (the number and the lengths of each spool to be produced) according to specifications and customer demands.
- To organize production plan in order to refresh make to stock internal inventories. (Inlet wires etc.)
- To prepare delivery list according to delivery plan and share related personnel.
- To have knowledge about quality management systems (ISO 9001, ISO/TS 16949, ISO 14001, OHSAS 18001).

Qualifications:

- Bachelors degree required (preferably industrial or systems engineering).
- Minimum 1 year experience in Enterprise Resource Planning Programs (preferably SAP).
- Strong problem solving skills and relationship management competencies.
- Strong conceptual and analytical thinking.
- Result oriented.
- Proficient in MS Office applications.